Cleaning and preprocessing data

Step by Step

Step 1: Created new collection - Separates different components into respective collections, making the data easier to manage and query

Nested Structures:

- Strategies: Contains details about different voting strategies.
- Treasuries: Contains treasury addresses.
- Validation: Contains validation rules and parameters.
- Admins: List of admin addresses.
- Members: List of member addresses.
- DAOs: Contains the main data structure with details about the DAO. Fields include id, name, rank, twitter, website, about, network, symbol, strategies, filters, plugins, treasuries, voting, validation, votesCount, activeProposals, proposalsCount, proposalsCount7d, and others.
- Spaces: Each DAO has multiple spaces.

Step 2: Cleaning each document and inserts its components into the respective collections.

a) Redundant Fields: Removing fields that are consistently null or empty (e.g., email, github, website in some cases), fields with default values that don't vary much (e.g., blind, hideAbstain). Ensures that only valid and complete data are kept.

b) Normalization: We did normalization to ensure data consistency, reduce errors, and simplify processing. Like: Converts addresses to a consistent format (lowercase). Converts large numbers to strings if they exceed the maximum integer size. Ensures numeric fields are correctly formatted.

c) Type Inconsistencies: We handled type inconsistencies to ensure uniform data formats, preventing errors in data processing and querying. This consistency improves accuracy and reliability in data analysis. For example: Fields like votesCount, activeProposals, proposalsCount, proposalsCount7d should be stored as integers instead of strings.

d) Remove Duplicates: We removed duplicates to ensure data accuracy, reduce storage and processing costs, and maintain dataset integrity. Like here: Uses aggregation to group documents by unique combinations of address, blockNumber, and hash. Deletes duplicate documents, keeping only one instance.

e) Unnecessary Nesting: We nested data to simplify access to related hierarchical information, maintain data integrity, and enhance query performance by eliminating the need for joins. To ensures efficient retrieval of complete data structures and atomic updates, improving overall data management. For example: Nesting vote details within a document allows for easy retrieval of all votes associated with a specific proposal or voter. This is useful for querying all vote-related data in one go.

Step 3: Combined cleaning and restructuring process for each collection.

Total Number of Treasuries: The total number of treasuries across all DAOs is 8, indicating that only a subset of the DAOs have established treasuries. This could reflect on the financial organization and resource allocation within these DAOs.

Treasury Details: The details of each treasury, including the space_id and address, provide specific information on which DAOs have treasuries and their corresponding blockchain addresses.

Average Votes per Proposal: 513.3888888888889

Average Votes per Proposal: The result (Average Votes per Proposal: 513.3888888888889) indicates that, on average, each proposal receives approximately 513 votes. This metric provides an understanding of the level of engagement and participation in the governance process across the DAOs.

Vote Count for Each Space ID
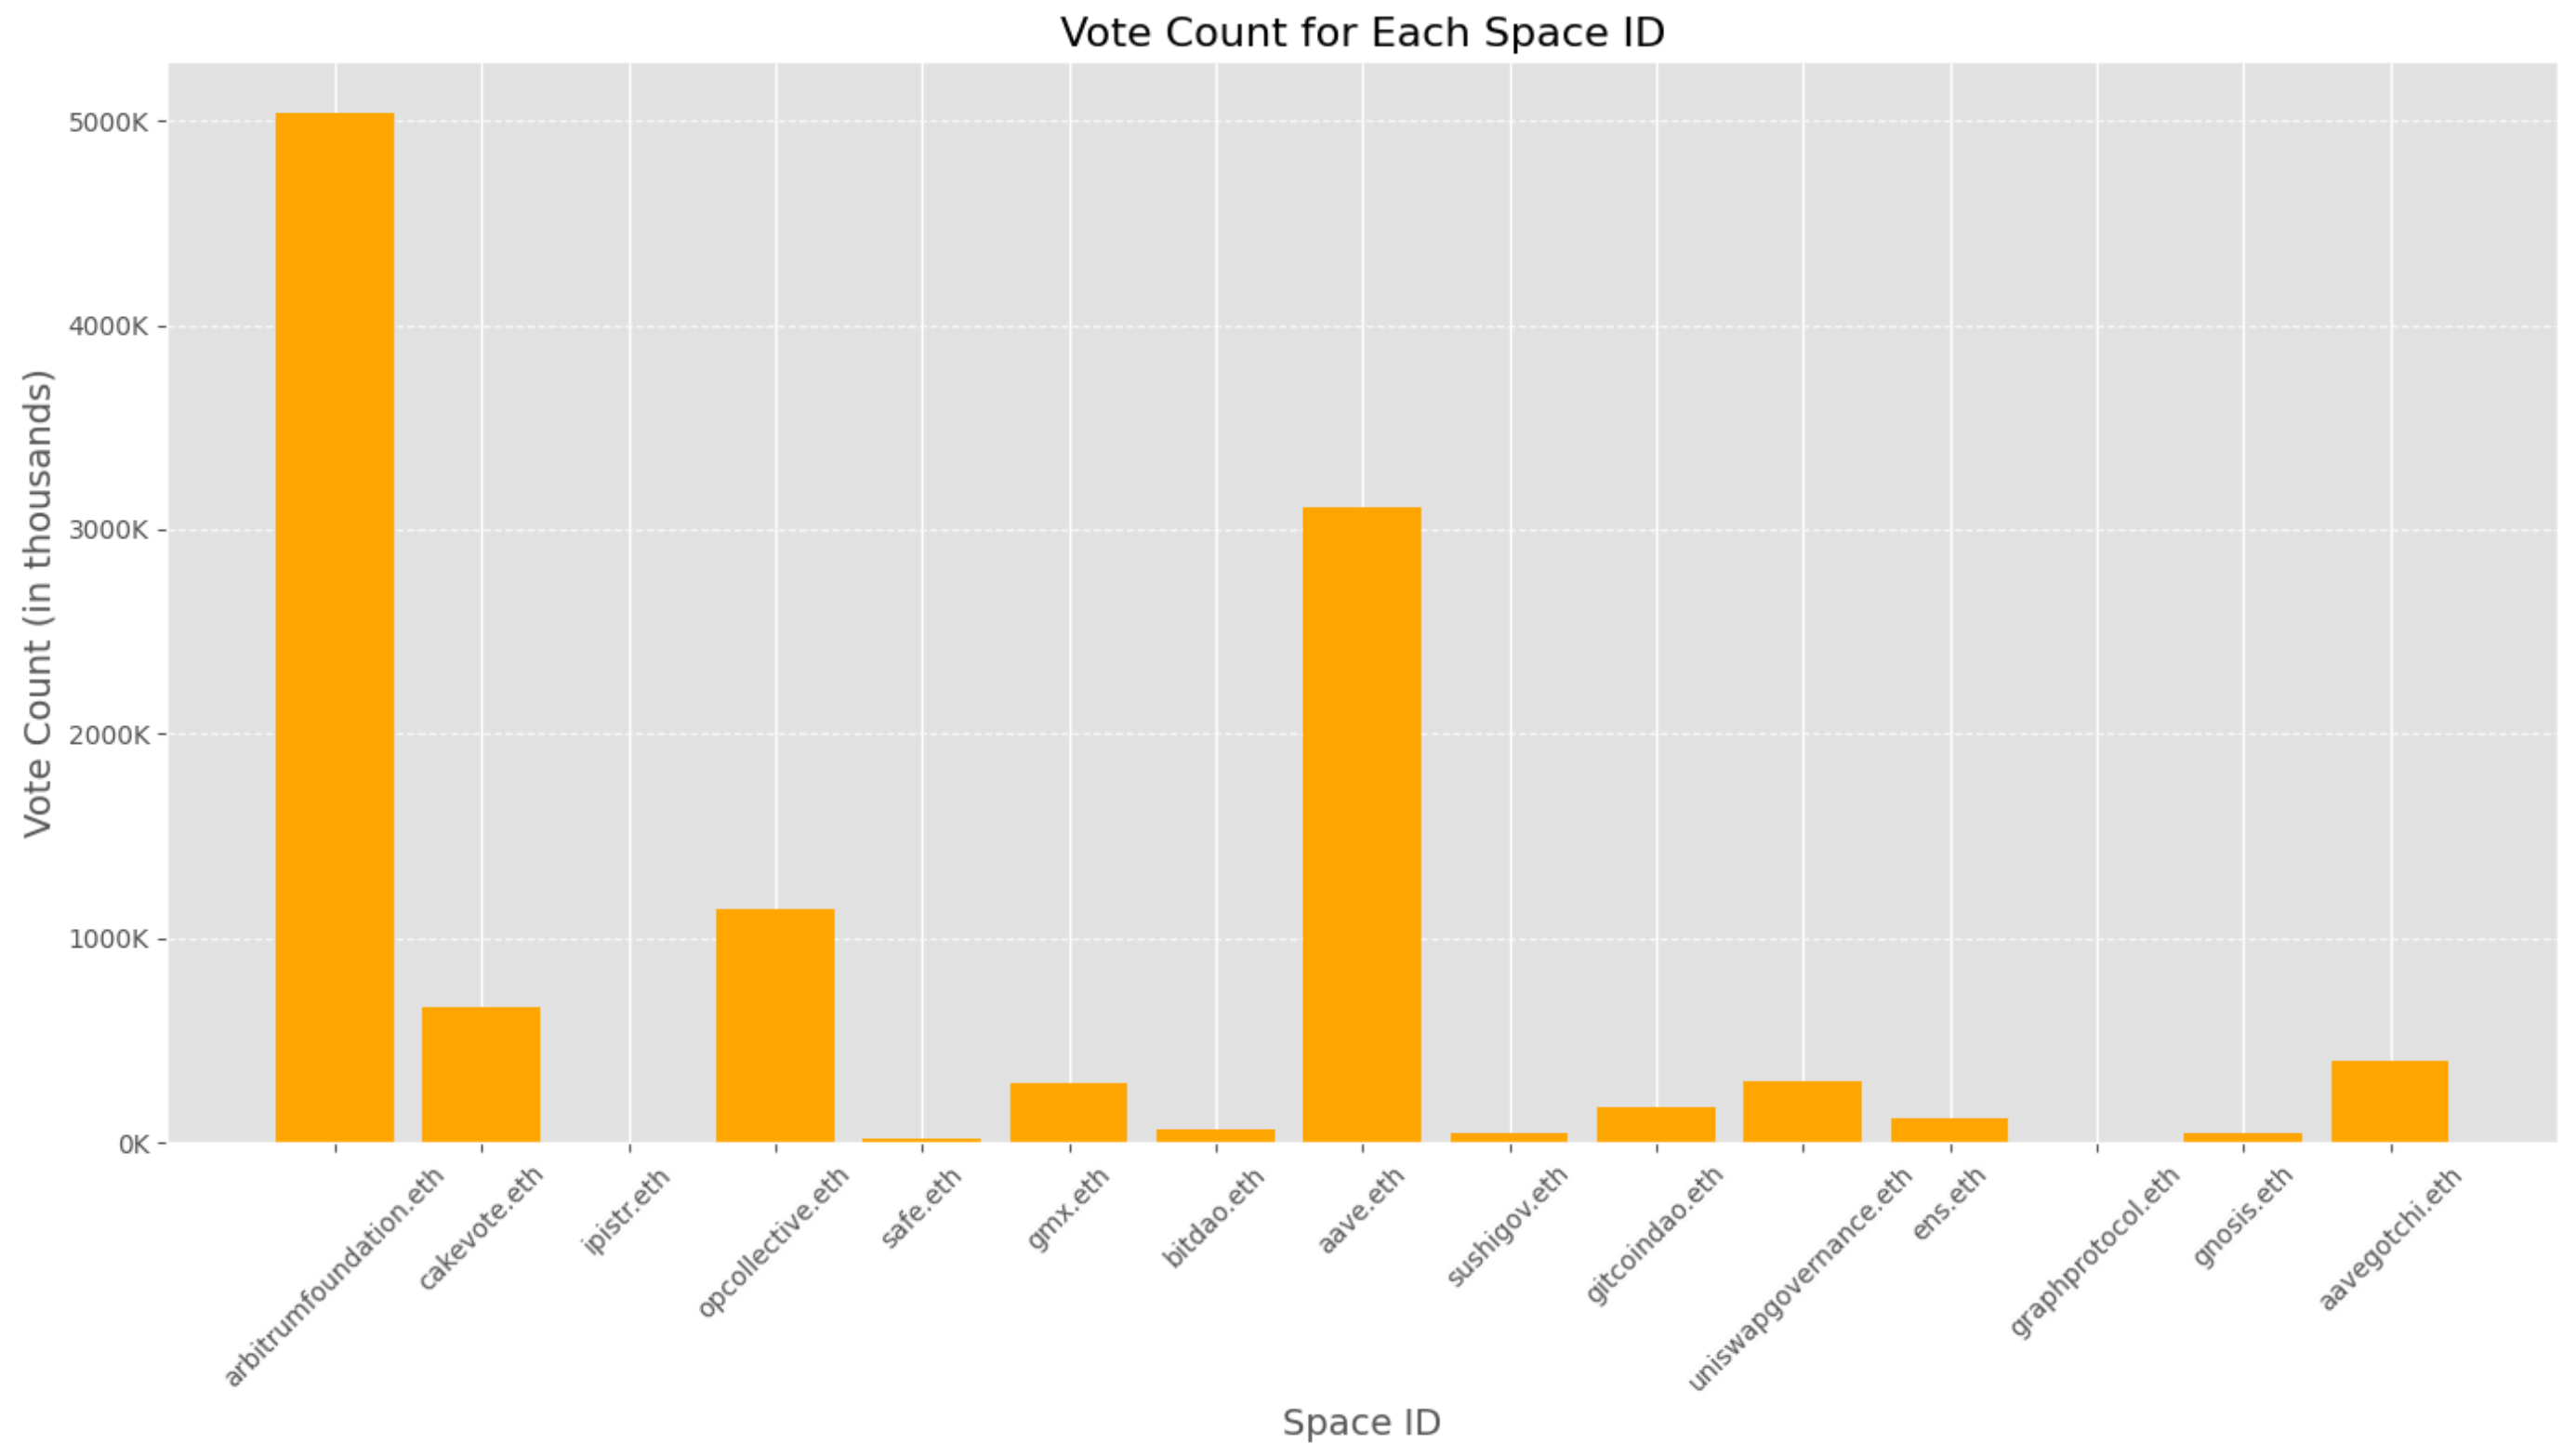

The bar chart visualizes the vote counts for each space ID, providing insights into the level of participation in governance activities across different DAOs. Here is an analysis based on the chart and the vote counts:

1. Top DAOs by Vote Count:

arbitrumfoundation.eth has the highest vote count, exceeding 500,000 votes. This indicates extremely high engagement and participation in governance decisions within this DAO. aave.eth also shows a substantial number of votes, indicating strong participation with over 200,000 votes.

2. Moderately Active DAOs:

DAOs like opcollective.eth, cakevote.eth, and aavegotchi.eth exhibit moderate vote counts, reflecting decent levels of community engagement and participation.

3. Less Active DAOs:

DAOs such as gmx.eth, bitdao.eth, gitcoindao.eth, uniswapgovernance.eth, and ens.eth have relatively lower vote counts, suggesting either a smaller community or less engagement in governance activities.

Significance

1. Engagement in Governance: High vote counts are indicative of active community involvement in governance decisions. DAOs with higher vote counts likely have robust processes for proposal submission and voting, fostering a democratic and participatory environment.
2. Community Size and Activity: The vote counts can serve as a proxy for the size and activity level of the community within each DAO. Higher vote counts often correlate with larger and more active communities.
3. Comparative Analysis: Comparing the vote counts across different DAOs can help identify which DAOs are more successful in engaging their members in governance activities.

Number of Admins per Space
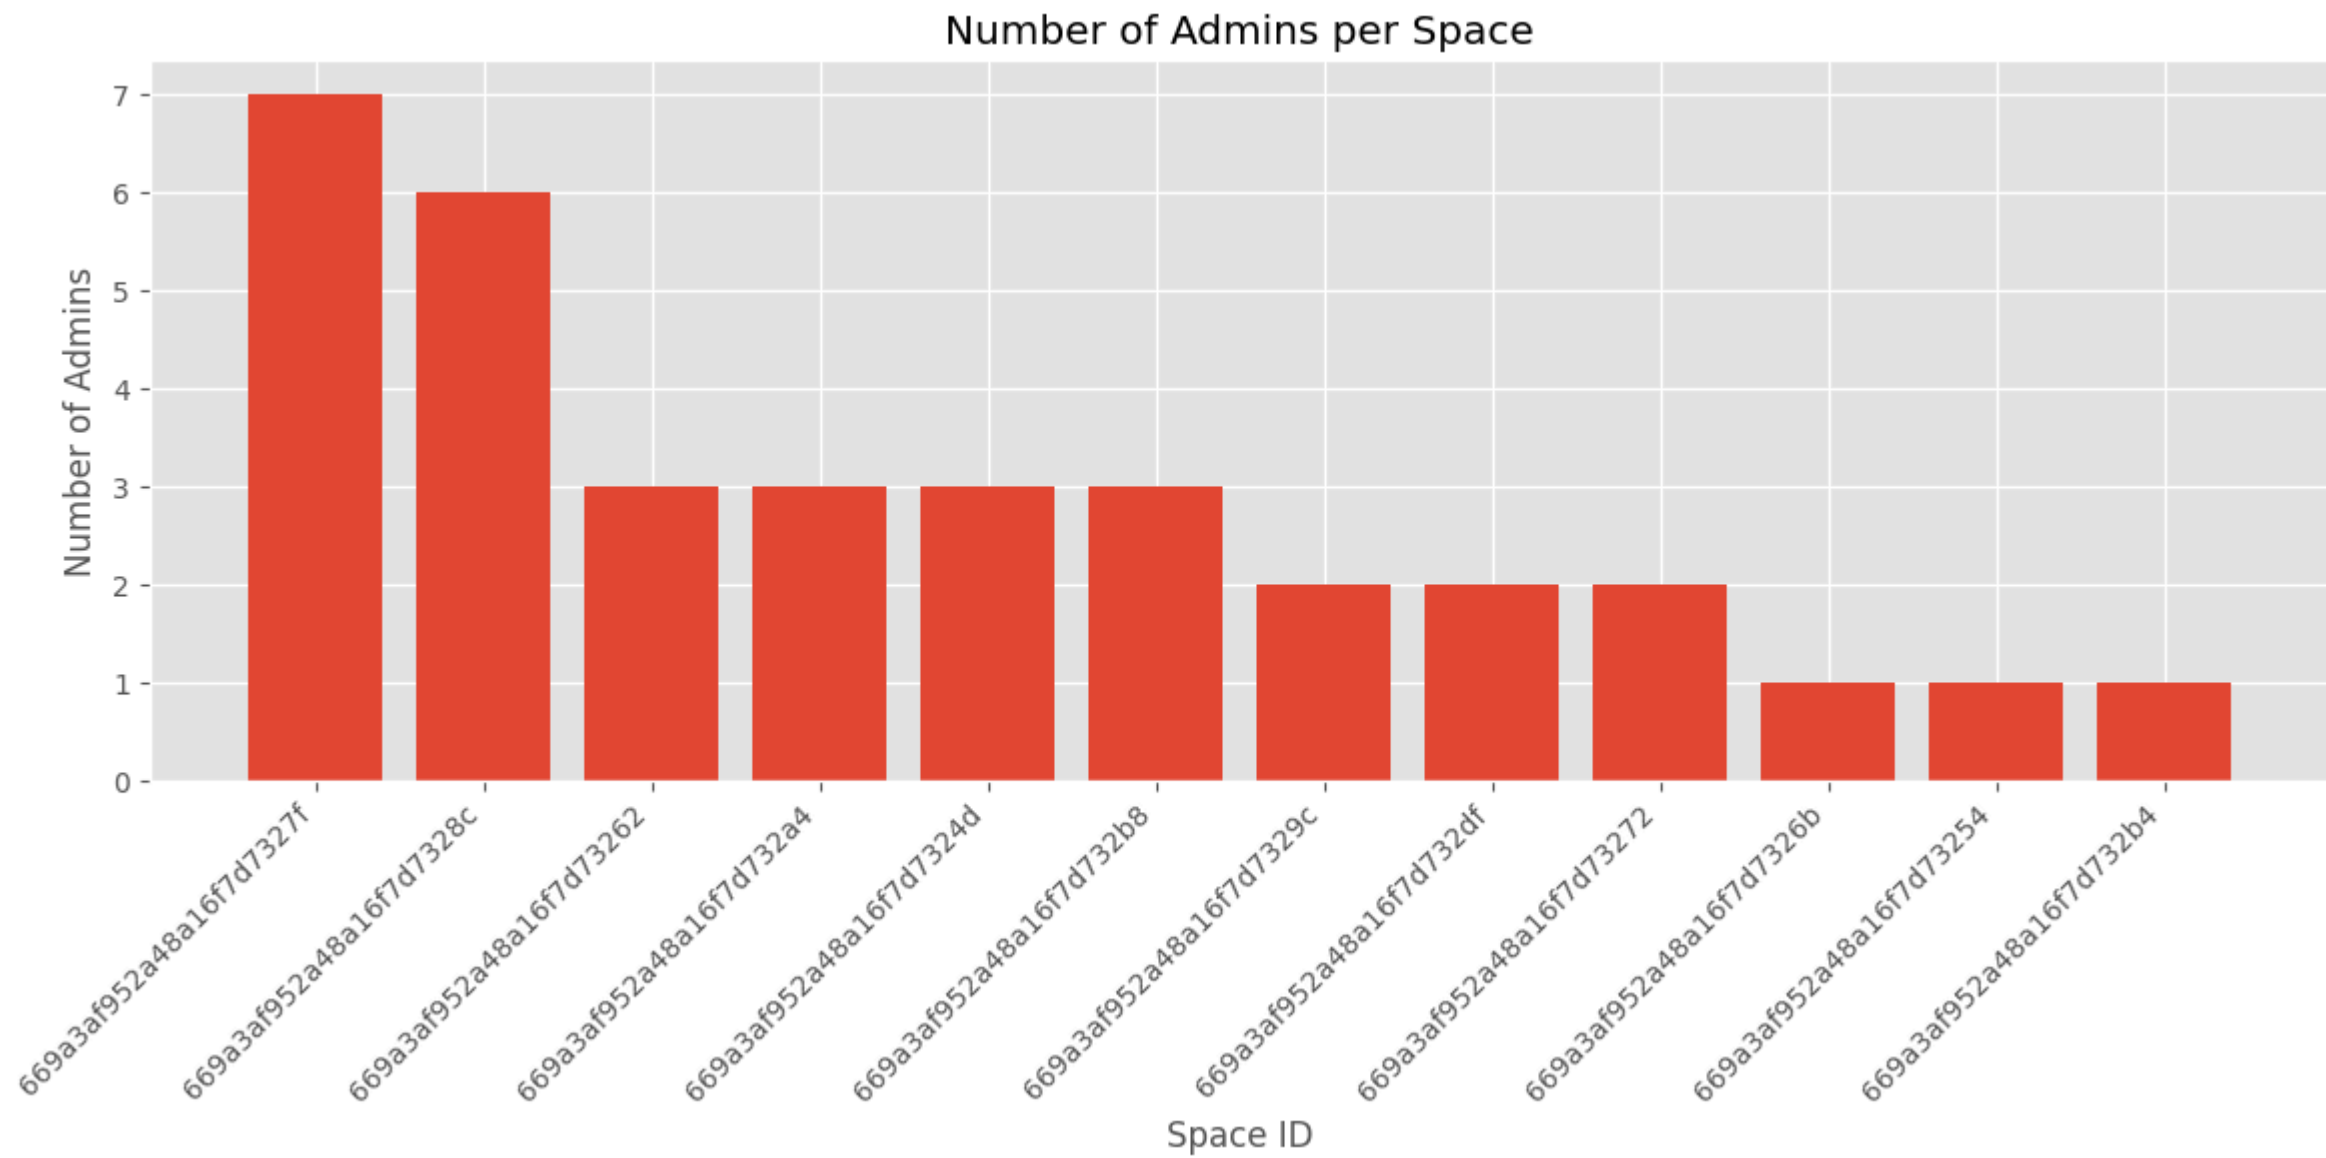

The bar chart visualizes the number of admins per space for each DAO, providing insights into the administrative structure of the DAOs. Here is an analysis based on the chart and the number of admins:

1. Spaces with High Number of Admins: The space ID 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b77c has the highest number of admins, with 7 admins. The space ID 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b789 follows with 6 admins.

2. Moderately Administered Spaces: Several space IDs, including 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b7b5, 6699aa28ee01d3bd9737b74a, 6699aa2aee01d3bd9737b75f, 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b7f5, and 6699aa2aee01d3bd9737b7dc, have 3 to 4 admins.

3. Spaces with Few Admins: Space IDs such as 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b751, 6699aa2aee01d3bd9737b799, and 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b768 have fewer admins, typically around 1 to 2.

Significance

- Administrative Structure: More admins suggest a distributed model, enhancing transparency and decision-making.
- Governance: Higher number of admins may indicate collaborative governance, while fewer suggest centralized control.
- Resource Allocation: More admins can better manage governance aspects, like proposal evaluation and community engagement.

Spaces with the highest rank or votes count

```python
Collection reference
spaces_collection = db['spaces']

Find top 10 spaces by votesCount

```python

Top 10 Spaces by Votes Count
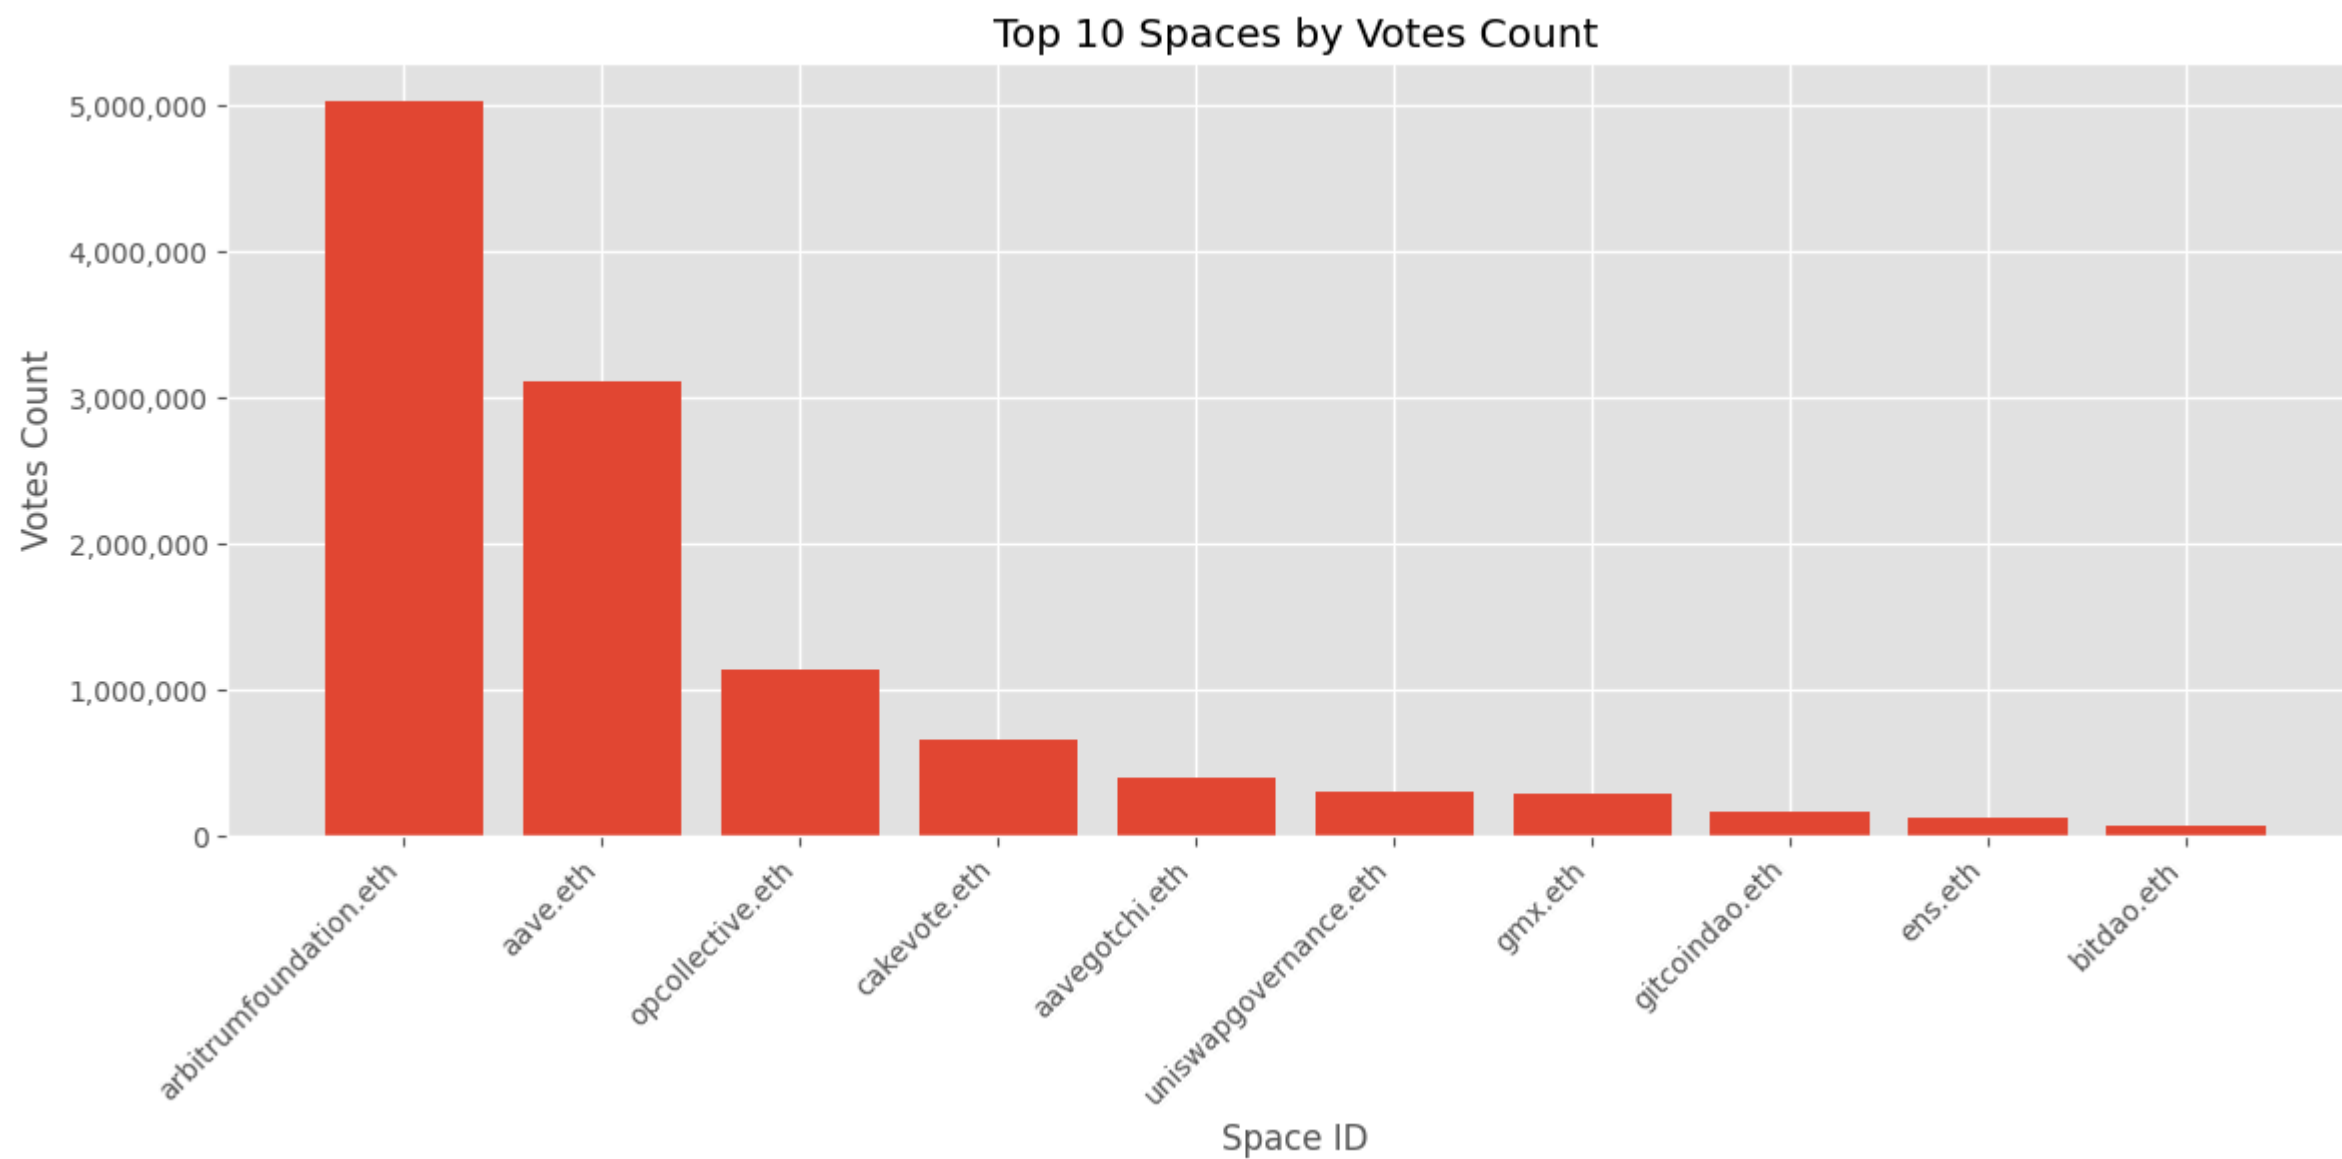

The bar chart visualizes the top 10 spaces by vote count, providing insights into which DAOs have the highest levels of participation in their governance processes. Here is an analysis based on the chart and the vote counts:

1. Top Spaces by Vote Count: arbitrumfoundation.eth: Over 5 million votes, indicating very high community engagement. aave.eth: Around 3 million votes, showing strong community involvement.

2. Moderately Active Spaces: opcollective.eth, cakevote.eth, aavegotchi.eth: Moderate vote counts, reflecting active but lower participation compared to the top spaces.

3. Less Active Spaces: uniswapgovernance.eth, gmx.eth, gitcoindao.eth, ens.eth, bitdao.eth: Lower vote counts, suggesting smaller or less engaged communities.

Significance:

- Community Engagement: High vote counts reflect strong community participation in governance.
- DAO Influence: Higher vote counts suggest effective decision-making with substantial community input.
- Benchmarking: Top spaces serve as benchmarks for increasing engagement in other DAOs.

Total Number of Votes per Space
The bar chart visualizes the total number of votes per space, providing insights into the voting activity across different DAOs. Here is an analysis based on the chart and the vote counts:

1. Top Spaces by Total Votes: aave.eth leads with the highest total number of votes, exceeding 1.6 million votes, indicating a very high level of community engagement. arbitrumfoundation.eth follows closely with over 1.5 million votes, showcasing another highly active community in governance.

2. Moderately Active Spaces: DAOs such as cakevote.eth, opcollective.eth, and aavegotchi.eth show moderate levels of voting activity, each with hundreds of thousands of votes.

3. Less Active Spaces: DAOs like uniswapgovernance.eth, gitcoindao.eth, gmx.eth, bitdao.eth, sushigov.eth, gnosis.eth, and ens.eth have lower total votes, indicating less engagement compared to the top DAOs.

Total number of members per space

```python
Collection reference
members_collection = db['members']

Group by space_id and count the number of members
pipeline = [
    {"$group": {"_id": "$space_id", "count": {"$sum": 1}}}, {"$sort": {"count": -1}}
results = list(members_collection.aggregate(pipeline))

```python
Extract data for plotting
space_ids = [str(result['_id']) for result in results]  # Convert ObjectId to string member_counts = [result['count'] for result in results]

Function to format y-axis values as integers with thousands separators
def y_format(x, _):
    return f'{int(x):,}'

Plotting
plt.figure(figsize=(12, 6))
plt.bar(space_ids, member_counts)
plt.xlabel('Space ID')
plt.ylabel('Number of Members')
plt.title('Total Number of Members per Space')
plt.xticks(rotation=45, ha='right')

Set y-axis formatter
ax = plt.gca()
ax.yaxis.set_major_formatter(FuncFormatter(y_format))

plt.tight_layout()
plt.show()

Total Number of Members per Space
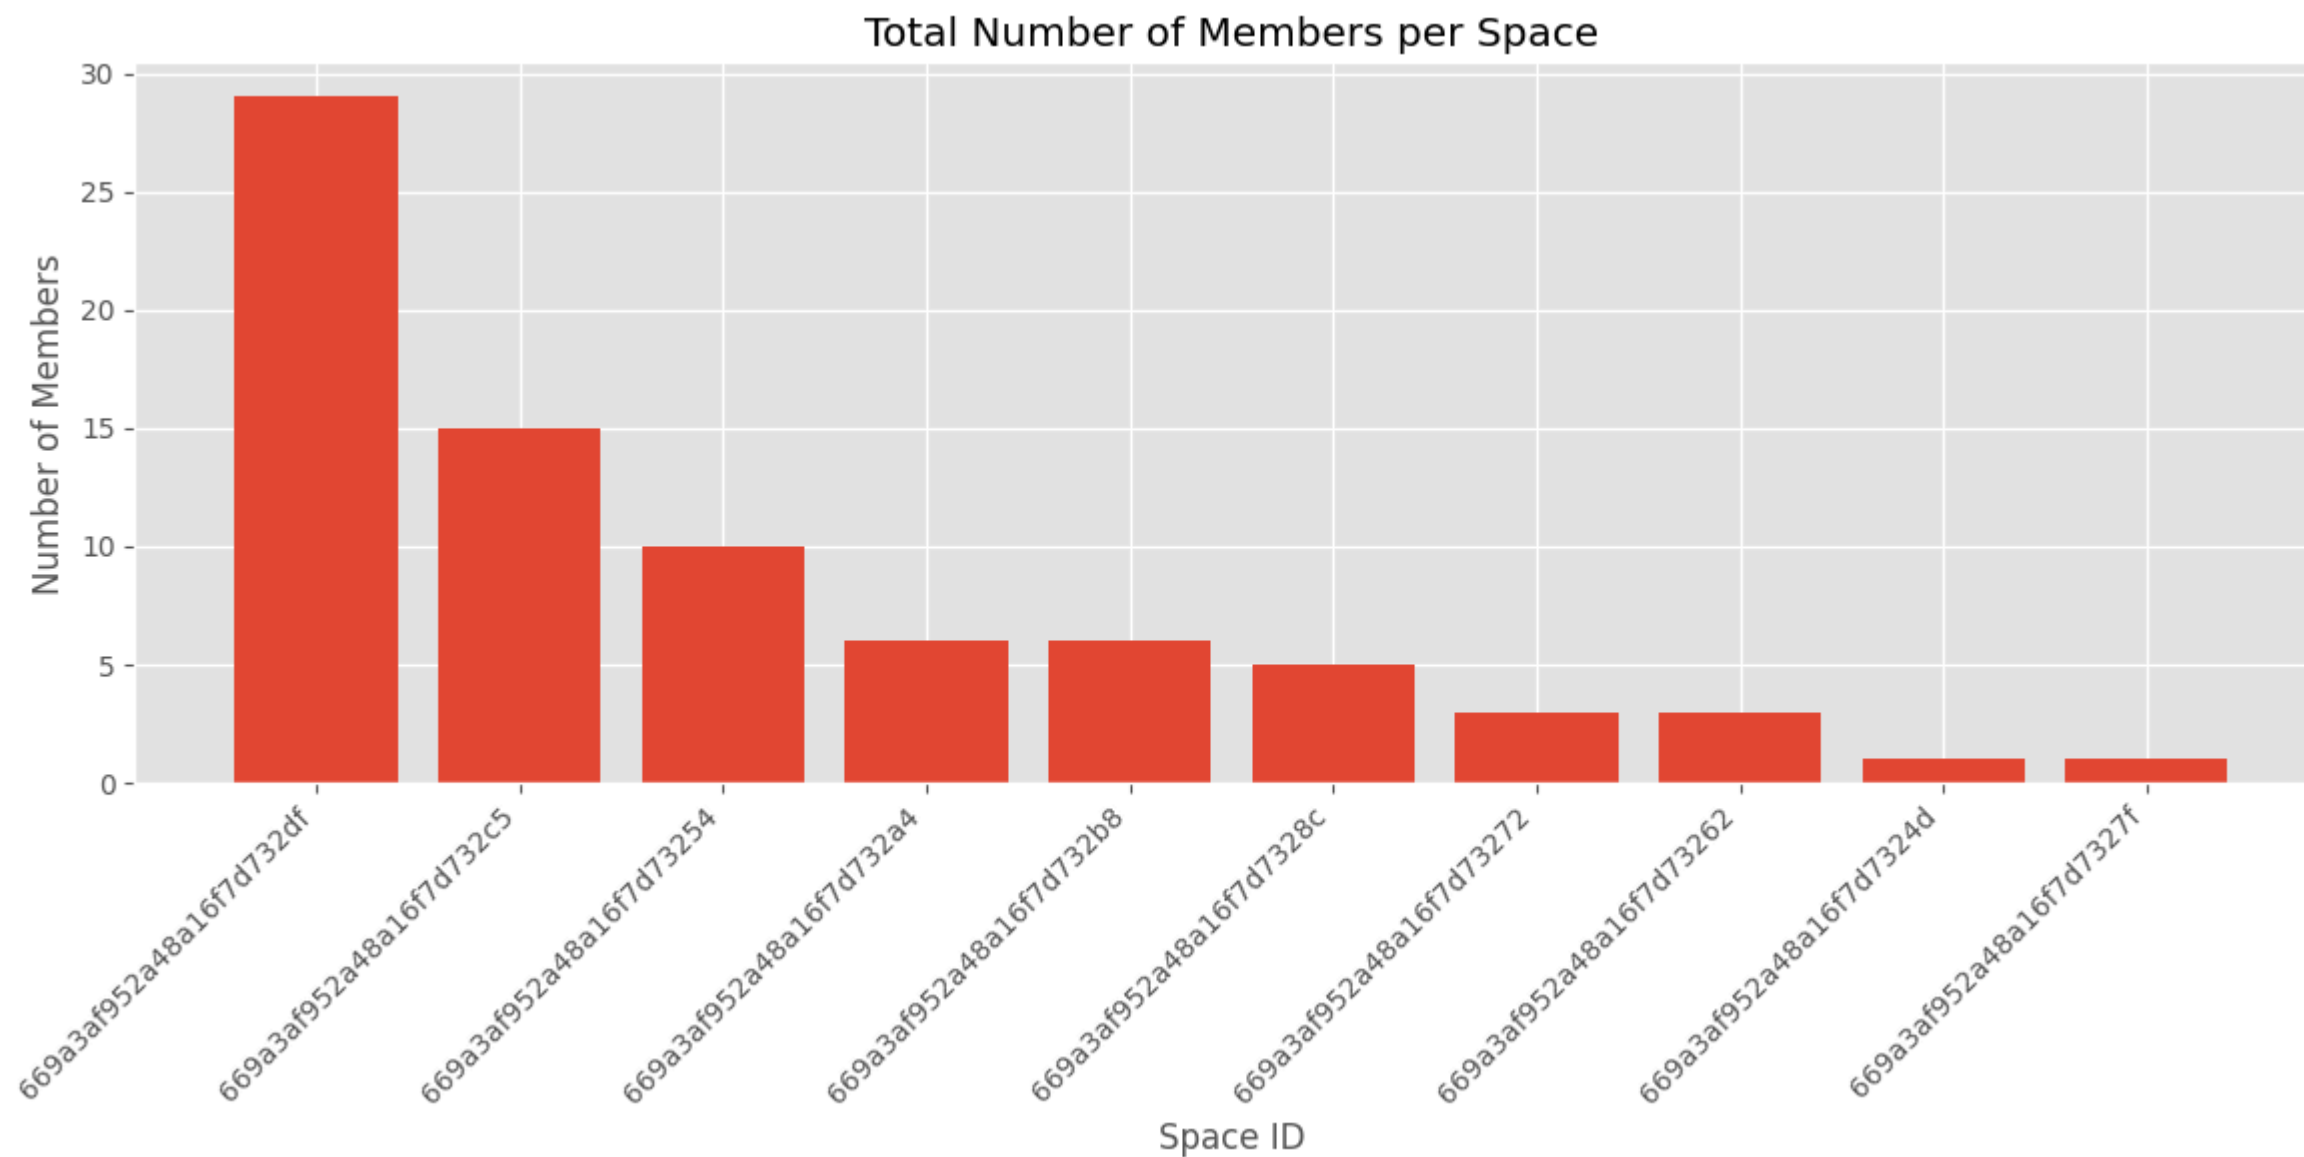

The bar chart visualizes the total number of members per space, providing insights into the size of the community for each DAO. Here is an analysis based on the chart and the member counts:

1. Top Spaces by Member Count: The space ID 6699aa2aee01d3bd9737b7dc has the highest number of members, with nearly 30 members, indicating a larger and potentially more active community. The space ID 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b7c2 follows with around 25 members, also showcasing a relatively large community.

2. Moderately Sized Communities: DAOs such as 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b751, 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b7b5, 6699aa28ee01d3bd9737b7a1, and 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b789 show moderate member counts, reflecting decent community sizes.

3. Smaller Communities: DAOs like 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b75f, 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b76f, 6699aa29ee01d3bd9737b77c, 6699aa28ee01d3bd9737b714, and others have fewer members, indicating smaller or more niche communities.

Significance

1. Community Size: The number of members can serve as a proxy for the size and potential engagement level of each DAO. Larger member counts often correlate with higher activity and participation.
2. DAO Popularity: Higher member counts can indicate the popularity of a DAO within the broader ecosystem, suggesting effective community-building and governance practices.
3. Comparative Analysis: Comparing the member counts across different DAOs can help identify which DAOs have been more successful in attracting and retaining members.

Total number of unique space ids

```python
Collection reference
unnested_follows_collection = db['unnested_follows']

Retrieve the distinct space IDs from the unnested_follows collection
distinct_space_ids = unnested_follows_collection.distinct("space_id")

Print the total number of unique space IDs
total_unique_space_ids = len(distinct_space_ids)
print(f"Total number of unique space IDs: {total_unique_space_ids}")

Print the list of unique space IDs
print("List of unique space IDs:") for space_id in distinct_space_ids:
    print(space_id)

The analysis reveals that there are a total of 10,262 unique space IDs in the unnested_follows collection. This indicates the breadth of different spaces (or DAOs) being followed within the dataset.

1. Diversity of Spaces:

- Total Unique Spaces: The existence of 10,262 unique space IDs suggests a highly diverse and expansive DAO ecosystem.
- Variety in Interests: The wide range of space IDs implies varied interests and specialized communities within the DAO landscape.

2. Active Community Engagement:

- Engagement Metrics: The number of unique spaces being followed can be used as a metric to gauge overall community engagement and interest across different DAOs.

3. Potential for Cross-DAO Analysis:

- Cross-DAO Interactions: With such a diverse set of spaces, there's potential to analyze interactions and overlaps between different DAOs.
- Shared Memberships: Investigate if members follow multiple DAOs, indicating shared interests or collaborative initiatives across different spaces.
